DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the word "said" is suggested to be deleted. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

3. Claims 1-9 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 1, line 12, the phrase "first set of" is suggested to be changed to "first set of bits". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 2611

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 29 and 31 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 29 and 31 have been amended to recite "A computer-readable medium comprising a computer program executable in a communication device". However, after reviewing the instant specification (see page 6, lines 9-13), the specification discloses a computer program, however, the computer program is not implemented in a computer-readable medium as recited in the claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-28 are allowable over prior art references if above objections are overcome.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. LaGasse et al. (US 2003/0020985) discloses an interleaving transmitter using pulse repetition rate for transmission.

Art Unit: 2611
